My program is accessing the jar file and it is not working for the file. The error message it is giving me is, java.io.FileNotFoundException: file\filename\filename.txt (The system cannot find the path specified) I am able to see that the file does exist in the jar file and I also can run a program that reads file using that file in the jar file. But when I run this program for the above mentioned file,

Q: Call method with interface parameter as type I have a scenario where I have to call a method with interface as parameter. Please have a look: interface IFoo { void Bar(Bar bar); } class A implements IFoo { void Bar(Bar bar) { // do stuff } } class B implements IFoo { void Bar(Bar bar) { // do stuff } } IFoo f = new A(); f.Bar(new B()); Now, I'm getting compile time error - B is not known. Please help me in resolving this. A: IFoo f = new A(); Is equivalent to IFoo f = new A(); // 1 //... f.Bar(new B()); which is equivalent to IB 77a5ca646e
