There are many groups like this, but I've found that few of them want to hand over control of their server. Or even relinquish ownership. So many work-arounds. Since you mentioned "Online", yes we are. We happen to be online, off the server.
Most of the ones that I've clicked on, they've just been conversations, so it has been, if you will - kindof a chatroom type thing. Since you mentioned "Online", yes we are. We

Check this out if the Crack works: Crack Full Patch

Greetings,

Your patience with lot of texts, but first... what these scripts are supposed to do, who is responsible for them, how does it actually work. 1. The script is responsible for downloading Elden with crack/patches for cracked GoldenEye. Most of the times the Crack version will be downloaded after few clicks will be done by the script, and up to few days latter. 2. The script is always online, in order to make the new crack available for future updates. This is true until I develop better ways of doing that.
